THE IPAL PROJECT

CPD -Continuing Professional Development- in Adult Education is of great importance as it helps to ensure that further learning is progressed in a structured, practical and relevant way to guarantee that there are applied efficiencies to the adults' learning. The IPAL project aims at developing quality assurance tools and training resources that promote the professional development & upskilling of adult trainers and overall, the quality of adult education.

“Education is not the learning of facts, but the training of the mind to think”
– Albert Einstein.

Partners are currently developing the Intellectual Output 3 - Scorecard and screening questionnaire on adult education providers' performance in terms of the relevance of the adult education provision. This is an analytical assessment tool that measures the adult education relevance and effectiveness with regards to the planning, delivery, evaluation and impact of adult training programmes. Learn more about IO3 here: <https://ipalproject.eu/intellectual-output-3/>

INTELLECTUAL OUTPUT 2

The IPAL Training portal

The IPAL portal offers 8 training modules on teaching methods and techniques to advance the skills and competences of adult educators, suitable both for self-study and for use in CPD programs. In this platform, you will also find a methodological guide for CPD activities and resources for further reading on topics covered in the IPAL modules. All 8 modules are available in English, Spanish, Italian, German, Greek and Bulgarian.

The output has been already tested and disseminated in 2 events in Italy, held in June, with participation of 40 adult educators. The feedback received was highly positive!
